

About the Author...

Hi, I'm Jamie Lynne Albin.

Before we go much further,
I should probably clear up one thing.

I am not Brandi Douglas.

Brandi isn't secretly me with a different name,
and The Brandi Series isn't my autobiography.

I made her up.

That doesn't mean everything in Brandi's world came from nowhere.

I've spent my life collecting stories, asking questions, visiting places, meeting people, listening to music, watching movies, reading, traveling, getting lost down historical rabbit holes, and discovering things I didn't know the day before.

Eventually, all those people, places, things, experiences, ideas, and questions started finding their way into my imagination.

- * Some inspired characters.
- * Some inspired places.
- * Some inspired conversations, adventures, questions, or wonderfully ridiculous situations.

Then I mixed them together with a very healthy amount of fiction and created Brandi's world.

So you may occasionally find pieces of things I've seen, learned, wondered about, or experienced hiding somewhere inside her story.

But Brandi is Brandi.
I'm Jamie.
She gets the spaceship.
I just get to decide where it goes.
